20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Proposal Review Panel met 51 times in FY 18. They provided competitive review analysis for each proposal as well as panel summaries. Each of these panels resulted in a invaluable review process that includes the following: a ranking matrix, written reviews, panel summary, minutes, the latest state-of-the art processes and a funding recommendation. Panelists reviewed and evaluated over 11370 proposals submitted to the division.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

Panelists represent a broad balance of the research community to include women, minorities, geographic distribution, industry, academe, Federal government and laboratories, age distribution and appropriate research disciplines.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

Within the ECCS Division, there are 3 research clusters that have panels each year. The ECCS Division had 51 meetings last year with each panel focusing on subareas of the 3 research clusters.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

Proposals submitted from the research community demonstrate methods of incorporating the latest state-of-the-art expertise into their subject matter. The communittee of subject matter experts provides qualified peer review specific to the proposals.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

To review proposals that included information of a proprietary or confidential nature, including technical information; financial data, such as salaries; and personal information concerning individuals associated with the proposals.

Narrative Description

The NSF mission is set out in the NSF Act of 1950 authorizes and directs the Agency to initiate and support: basic scientific research and research fundamental to the engineering process; and science and engineering education programs at all levels and in all fields of science and engineering. The involvement of knowledgeable peers from outside the Foundation in the review of proposals is the keystone of NSF's proposal review system. Their judgments of the extent to which proposals address the merit review criteria are vital for informing NSF staff and influencing funding recommendations.
